Dear Sir / Madam,

We refer to the above claim submitted for reimbursement. We regret to inform you that the claim is not admissible for the following reason:

On scrutiny of the claim documents, it is observed that the insured patient is a known case of Type 2 Diabetes Mellitus since 2016, which was not disclosed in the proposal form at the time of inception of the policy. Diabetes Mellitus is a major risk factor for coronary artery disease. As the insured has failed to disclose a material fact, the claim stands repudiated under the Disclosure of Information clause of the policy terms and conditions.

We further reserve the right to cancel the policy and forfeit the premium paid.

This is a system-generated letter.

Yours faithfully,
